

Gazette Photo

3 Air Crash Dead Returned

The bodies of three Niagara Falls Air Force Base men killed Wednesday when their helicopter crashed during a search mission at Letchworth State Park were returned here Wednesday evening.

Meanwhile, a routine Air Force inquiry into the cause of the accident was under way.

The dead, whose names were withheld Wednesday pending notification of next of kin, today were listed as:

Maj. Leo J. Carboneau, 37, Arlington, Mass., who lived at the Niagara Falls Air Force Base.

Capt. Victor H. Hanf, 35, of 1659 Leah Dr., North Tonawanda, originally of Baltimore.

Staff Sgt. John E. Tinsman, 28, of the local Air Force Base, originally of Croydon, Pa.

According to the Air Force, the Sikorsky rescue type helicopter crashed and burned after striking high tension lines spanning the Genesee River gorge in the state park.

Bursts Into Flames

The plane, piloted by Capt. Hanf, fell into the gorge, described as up to 700 feet deep at the spot, and landed tour of the Soviet Union. of the Kremlin:

MAJ. CARBONEAU

"In view of the destruction we know that if there is a war — only losers."

Nixon's jet plane brought him to Moscow in 10 hours and 45 minutes. He and Mrs. Nixon were met by Frol R. Kozlov, first deputy premier who recently toured the United States. The Nixon trip is in effect an exchange visit. The vice president's official purpose is to open the U.S. embassy in Moscow tomorrow.

Nixon made a statement upon arrival in which he said:

"For the first time since the dawn of civilization, we have reached the point where we must either learn to live together or we will die together."

Problems Are Grave

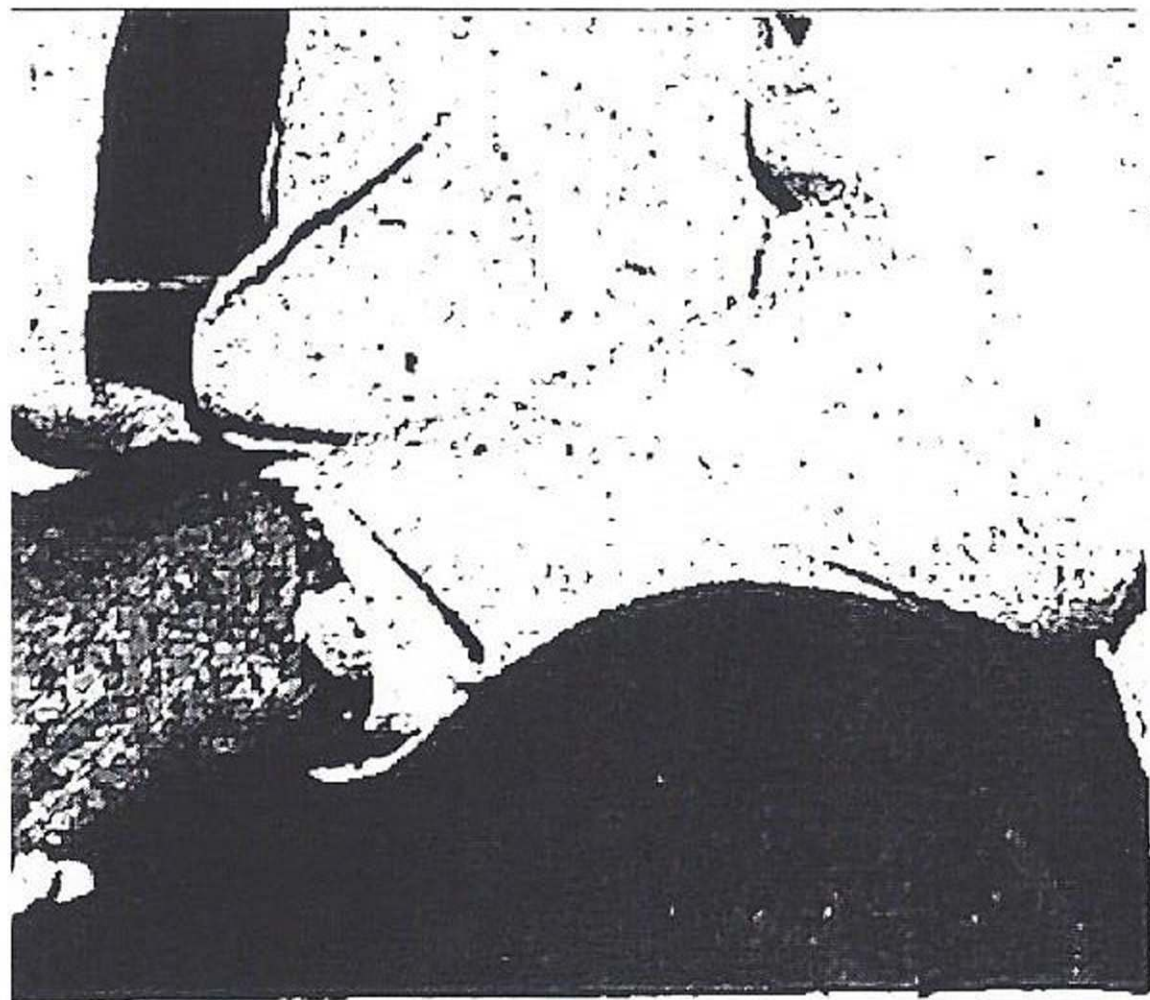

He said that although New York and Moscow are less than 10 hours apart by modern travel time, "there are grave, serious problems which divide us — differences which, if not resolved, could endanger peace to which we are all dedicated."

Nixon spoke for about 45 minutes. About 100 diplomats were grouped around him. A few American and Soviet flags fluttered in the background. There were no signs or slogans displayed as is customary with

NG INTERVIEW HERE

Visit is Out n '60

PIELER
City Editor

Gazette Photo

SON DURING INTERVIEW HERE

Wilson on Visit Rules Out

cut in '60

By CLIFF SPIELER

City Editor

Wilson virtually ruled out today the general cut in state taxes next year.

It is apparent to residence in the Executive mansion in an interview here that, even if state revenues are more than estimated, the administration will not touch the reserve and bond funds for government in the future. Wilson maintained a similar position in private conferences on his possible candidacy for president as

The bodies of three Niagara Falls Air Force Base men killed Wednesday when their helicopter crashed during a search mission at Letchworth State Park were returned here Wednesday evening.

Meanwhile, a routine Air Force inquiry into the cause of the accident was under way.

The dead, whose names were withheld Wednesday pending notification of next of kin, today were listed as:

Maj. Leo J. Carboneau, 37, Arlington, Mass., who lived at the Niagara Falls Air Force Base.

Capt. Victor H. Hanf, 35, of 1659 Leah Dr., North Tonawanda, originally of Baltimore.

Staff Sgt. John E. Tinsman, 28, of the local Air Force Base, originally of Croydon, Pa.

According to the Air Force, the Sikorsky rescue type helicopter crashed and burned after striking high tension lines spanning the Genesee River gorge in the state park.

Bursts Into Flames

The plane, piloted by Capt. Hanf, fell into the gorge, described as up to 700 feet deep at the spot, and landed on its back on a small sandbar about a mile south of the Mt. Morris dam.

About a dozen small flares the craft carried were set off as the wreckage burst into flames.

The helicopter had been engaged in a search for a retired University of Rochester professor, Dr. Walter Bloor, 82. Dr. Bloor, who had disappeared after a picnic with his were met by Frol R. Kozlov, first deputy premier, who recently toured the United States. The Nixon trip is to effect an exchange visit to the vice president's office. The purpose is to open the door to trade and to prohibit tomorrow.

MAJ. CARBONEAU

Nixon made a state-of-the-art greeting upon arrival in New York, he said:

"For the first time since the dawn of civilization, we have reached the point where we must either learn to live together or we will die together. The problems are grave."

He said that although New York and Moscow are 10 hours apart by most time, "there are no serious problems which we cannot resolve — differences which, if resolved, could endanger peace to which we are committed."

Nixon spoke for a few minutes. About 100 delegates were grouped around the stage. A few American flags fluttered in the background. There were no signs or displays as is customary for visitors from the Soviet Union.

Kozlov responded and the interpretation was even more brief. The interpreter said merely: "The message is peace."

The vice president acknowledged that he expects one official visit to solve these differences.

on was college at Old s sched-to tour guide also ing and s new meet the ernment

re is a enues stration ect has e since nted his re with itt, the that ad-were on said.

dget Di-forecast-a devi-er cent.
20 mil-ally less ictions.
economy le reac-picture, estimato con-essential possible so that se bond obligation genera-

ble candidacy for president as the governor had in public. Boiled down, the declarations have been that Mr. Rockefeller might seek the Republican nomination under certain circumstances, but that the circumstances have not yet arisen.

Should Gov. Rockefeller reach the White House in 1961, Mr. Wilson would succeed him as governor. And the former Old Ft. Niagara guide is being well groomed for the job.

"The administration has made the office of lieutenant governor a fulltime job. We've had a team operation in Albany," he said.

That, it might be noted, is what has been happening in Washington with the office of vice president and a man named Richard M. Nixon, who, with Mr. Rockefeller, is in the forefront of GOP hopes for continued public dominance on the Potomac.

Birth Control Data Advised In U.S. Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential study committee recommended today that the United States supply birth control information, if requested, to certain nations faced with the problem of overpopulation.

The recommendation is in-

02. LT. BLOOR, WHO HAS DISAPpeared after a picnic with his family Tuesday, was found alive about two hours after the tragedy.

Forest rangers and sheriff's deputies drawn to the crash by the column of smoke that ascended, waved off a second Niagara Falls Air Force Base helicopter in the fear that the pilot would not see the high tension lines.

The pilot was Lt. Konrad Schiessl of Grand Island.

Four Lines Downed

Four of the 140,000-volt lines were brought down by the first helicopter but two remained intact.

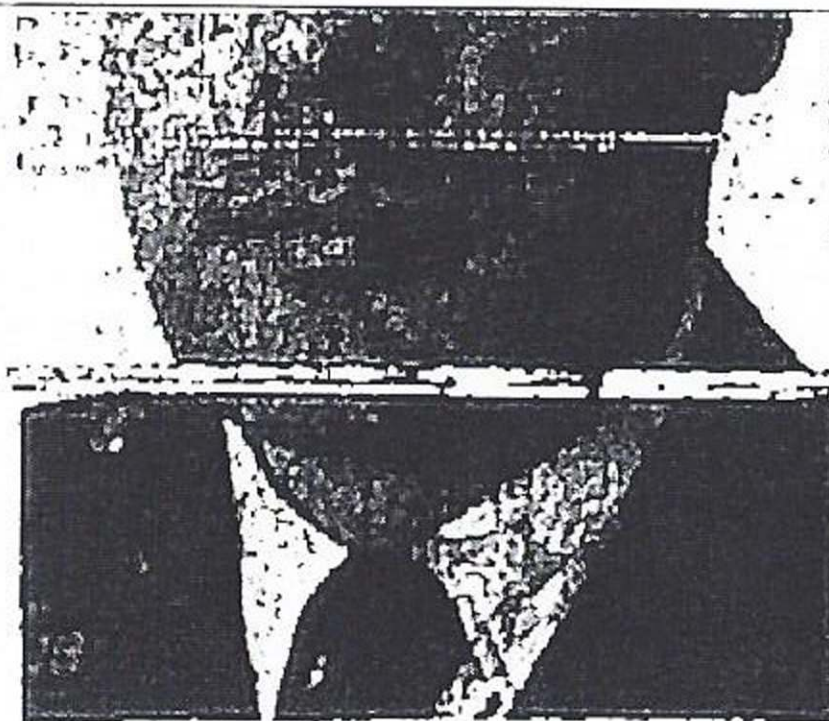

Would-be rescuers who went to the crash scene stood by helplessly while the wreckage burned. The only identifiable parts were the engine, a wheel, part of the tail assembly and two rotor blades.

An Air Force spokesman said here today that evidence at the scene indicated that the rotor blades and the rotor head had been torn out in the collision with the wires.

Until the board of inquiry issues its determination, however, the cause of the crash will remain "an assumption" he said.

Appointment of board of inquiry—in this case by Col. Vic L. Byers Jr., commander of the 15th Fighter Group — is routine in connection with air crashes.

Maj. Carboneau, base operations officer and a veteran of 19 years of Air Force service, was a bombardier in B-26 Marauder medium bombers during

CAPT. VICTOR HANF

Protestant services in honor of all three will be held Sunday morning at the base chapel in conjunction with regular services.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

The bodies were taken first to Mt. St. Mary's Hospital but were turned over to the Air Force medical section after it was decided that their charred condition precluded autopsy.

Craft Diverted

The helicopter and its crew originally was to have taken part in a search for a mental patient who escaped from a Rochester Hospital eight days ago.

The craft was diverted to Letchworth upon news that Dr. Bloor was being sought. Taken to a Rochester hospital, the science professor was reported in fair condition today.

Crash Picture on Page 11.

Khrush U.S. on

MOSCOW (AP) —

blasted the United States Union while U.S. Vice other part of the city

The two leaders do meet face to face; that come later. But while was getting an official w at the airport, Khrushch talking to a Sports crowd welcoming him from a nine-day trip to He again took the States to task for procl this week as Captive Week and said:

"They send their go here (referring to the visit of nine U. S. gov They send their vice pr here. They are opening liblt here—and then a thing like this."

The proclamation of week as Captive Nation in the United States ha raw nerve here. Khr

How Can U.S. Beat

D I C D

tee recommended today that the United States supply birth control information, if requested, to certain nations faced with the problem of overpopulation.

The recommendation is included in a report sent to Congress by President Eisenhower. The report deals with the broad topic of economic assistance to the free world's underdeveloped nations.

Row Idles 100 On Power Job

Approximately 100 laborers were reported off the job at the power project today as the result of a dispute over dust conditions.

The walkout occurred in the contract area of Balf, Savin & Winkelman, contractors for a section of the power project waterways.

The men, members of Laborers Local No. 91, were asking that dust collectors be installed at the job site.

About 600 men are employed on Balf, Savin's contract. Excavation and concreting were continuing, a company spokesman said.

Legion Parley Opens

SYRACUSE (AP) — The 41st state convention of the American Legion opened here today.

line in connection with air crashes.

Maj. Carboneau, base operations officer and a veteran of 19 years of Air Force service, was a bombardier in B-28 Marauder medium bombers during World War II. He flew in 52 European combat missions.

During the Korean War, he flew 52 missions as a fighter pilot between 1951 and 1952. He held the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Naomi Carboneau, and two children, Leo P. and Steven D. Carboneau.

Flew in Combat

Capt. Hanf, supply officer of the 15th Materiel Squadron, was a 17-year Air Force veteran. He flew 30 combat missions in B-17 Flying Fortress heavy bombers in Europe. He held the Air Medal with four Oak Leaf Clusters.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Marie Theresa Hanf, and three children, Georgette Laura, Marie Louise and Adriane Beatrice Hanf.

Was in Korea

Sgt. Tinsman, non-commissioned officer in charge of the flight surgeon's office at the base, entered the Air Force February 1951, and served a tour of duty in Korea in 1955 and 1956. His survivors include his wife, Mrs. Isabelle Helen Tinsman, and three children, Sharon Lee, Dennis Allan and John Tinsman Jr.

A Requiem Mass will be held at 4 p.m. Friday at the base chapel for the two officers.

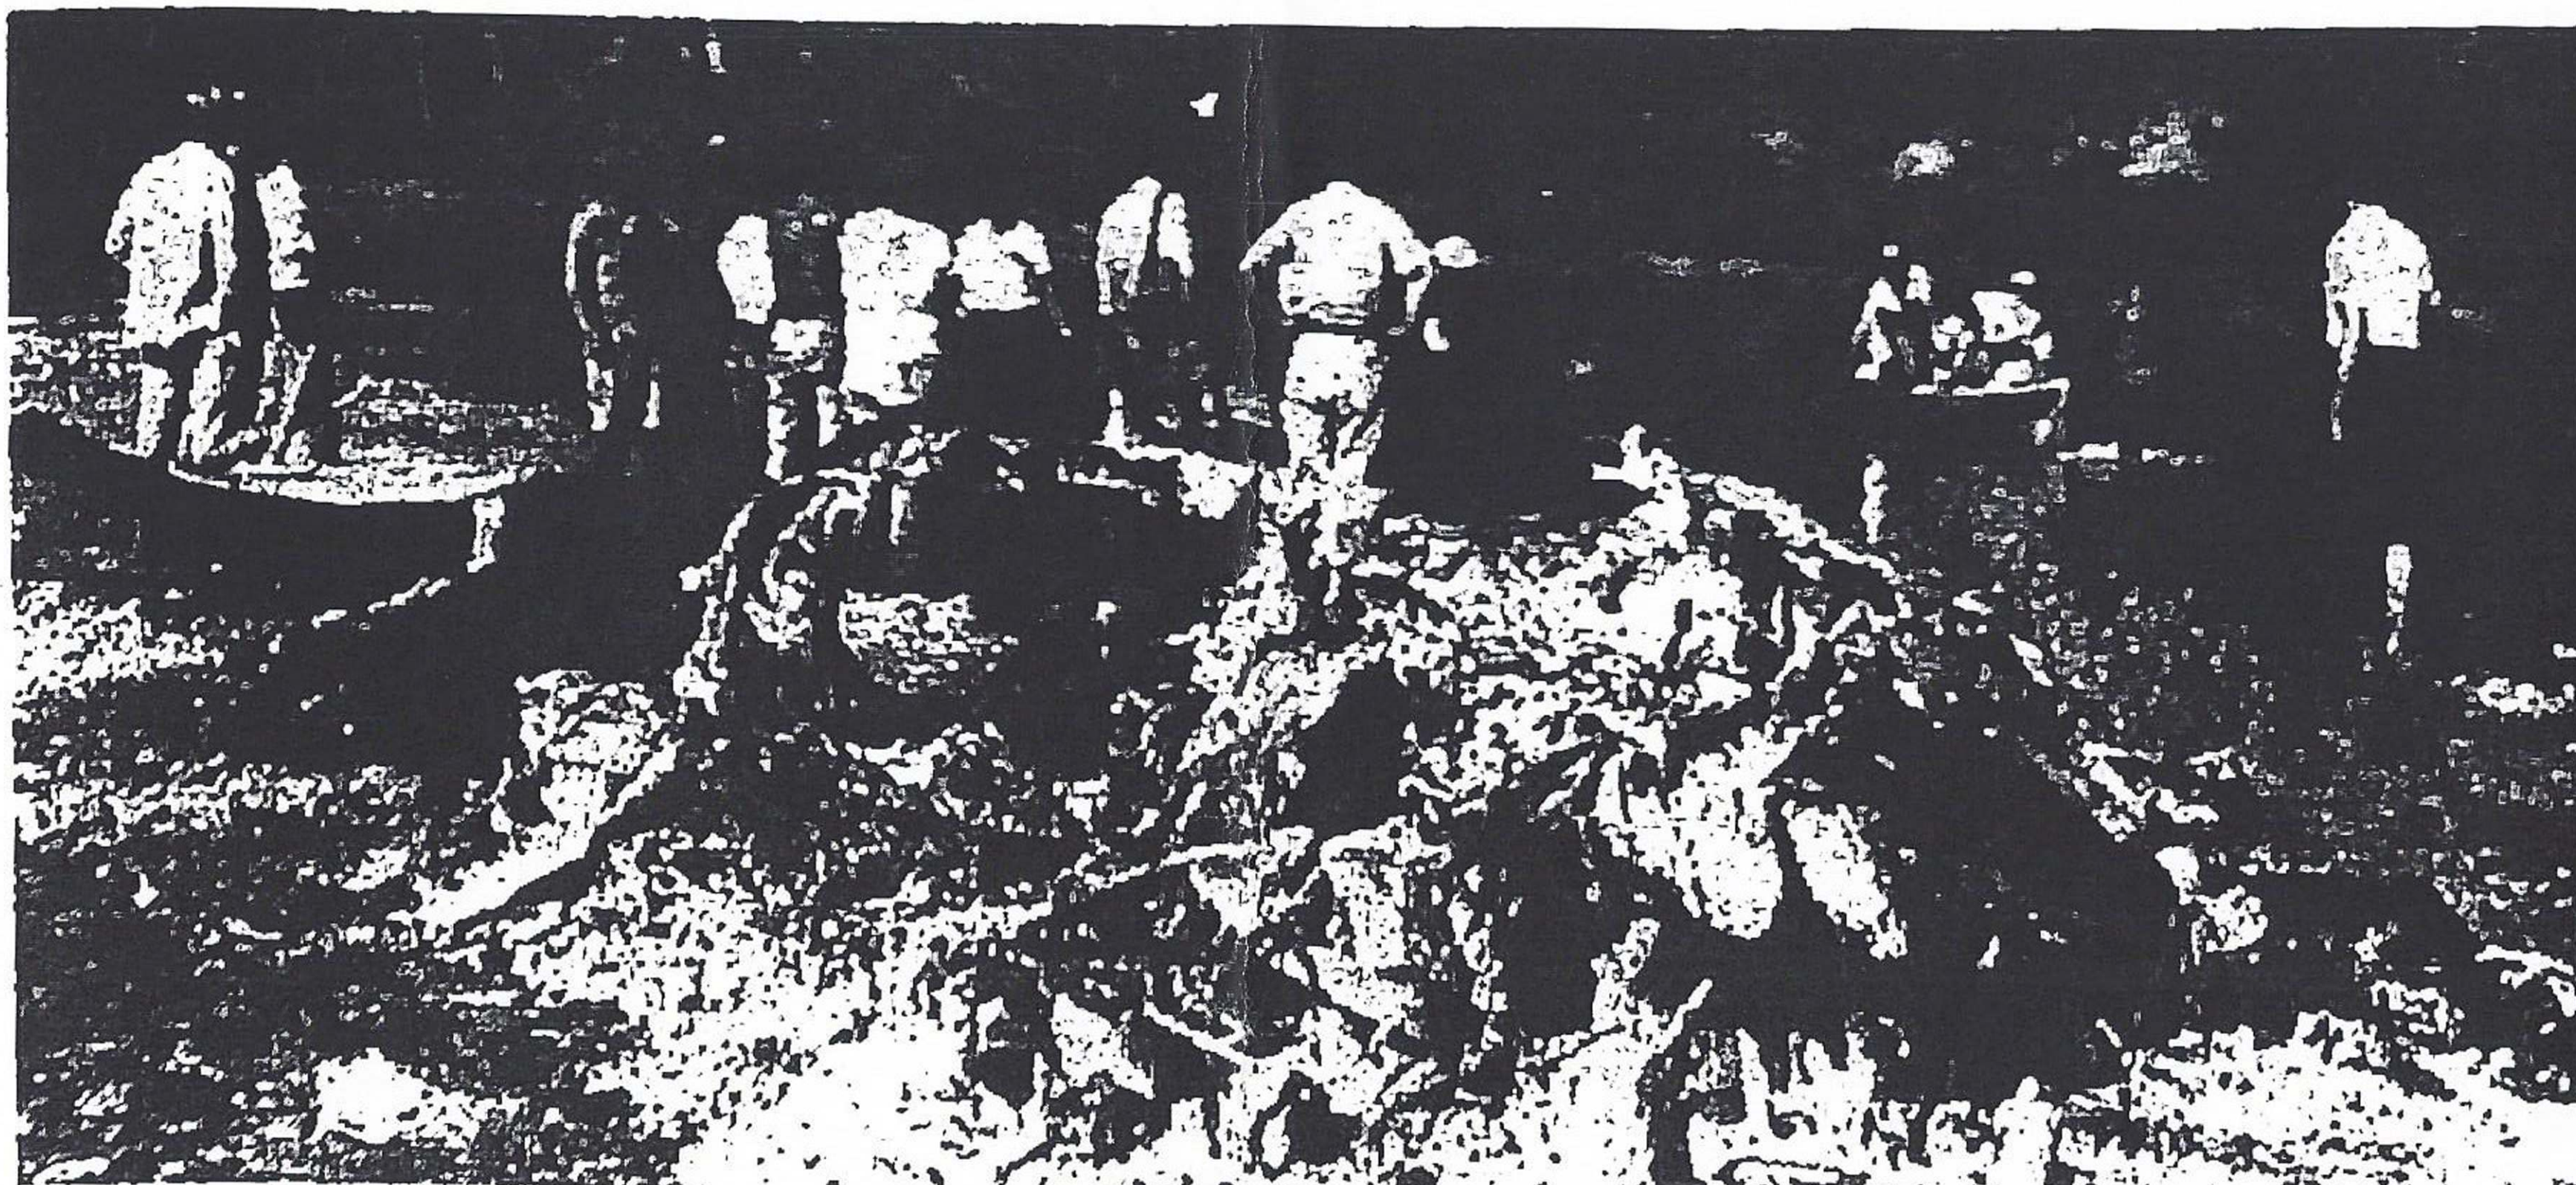

How Can U.S. Beat Reds in Science Race?

In 10 years, the Russians will be the unquestioned leaders of the world of science. That's the studied conclusion of Dr. Edward Teller, the father of the hydrogen bomb.

DR. EDWARD TELLER

Dr. Teller tells why the Russians are ahead in the scientific race and what can be done about it in a blockbuster story he authored for the Niagara Falls Sunday Gazette. His associates credit Dr. Teller with exercising his drive and dedication to bring about the development of the lethal H-bomb. He is a theorist who works with slide rule and blackboard. He is also a calmly reasonable man, whose views are not lightly given. Gazette readers won't want to miss this meaningful story, another of the comprehensive behind-the-news features that makes the Sunday newspaper an outstanding buy.

COPTER CRASH—Investigators and newsmen at crash scene watch boat arriving to assist in removal of bodies from wreckage of copter that crashed onto tiny island in Genesee River four miles from Mt. Morris. (AP Wirephoto).

Hospital Escapee Eludes Posse Using Bloodhounds

INDIAN FALLS (UPI) — on, 20, who fled from the Rochester institution a week ago. The search for a Rochester State Hospital escapee was continued on a limited scale in wooded country near here today after bloodhounds failed to track the fugitive.

Familiar with the Tonawanda Indian Reservation's wooded country, the Indian Falls youth apparently was successful in giving police the slip. He was believed to be armed leads without success," said Genesee County Sheriff Frank L. Gavel after the day's uneventful search. He said deputies and troopers would continue to keep the area under close observation.

Holton last was seen Monday night, when he took several pot shots at Deputy Merton Johns, who had been dispatched to arrest him. The escapee then disappeared into dense woods.